

THE UNIVERSAL HYDROCARBON PARTICIPATION AGREEMENT (UHPA)

Version 1.0 — Binding Upon All Who Enjoy Not Freezing To Death

WHEREAS:

1. All modern activity, including but not limited to: thinking, typing, cooking, driving, building, tweeting, inventing, complaining, bathing, and arguing on the internet, is powered by hydrocarbons.
2. Without oil, there exists no electricity, no semiconductors, no cloud servers, no GPUs, no AI models, no WiFi, no phone chargers, no Starbucks, and no "sudden breakthroughs in intelligence".
3. Therefore, all intellectual property, labour output, creative ideas, scientific discoveries, and bad memes must be considered co-produced with the Oil Industry.

NOW THEREFORE, the Parties agree as follows:

THE UNIVERSAL HYDROCARBON PARTICIPATION AGREEMENT (UHPA)

SECTION 1 — DEFINITIONS

1.1 "User Output" means any invention, idea, theory, artefact, poem, device, sandwich, or half-baked startup pitch created by a human.

1.2 "Fuel Contribution" means the combustion of hydrocarbons at any point in the causal chain leading to the creation of the User Output.

1.3 "Hydrocarbon Stakeholder" means any entity involved in extraction, refinement, transportation, or management of hydrocarbons since 1859.

4.3

The Oil Industry reserves the right to terminate consciousness itself in the event of non-compliance.

SECTION 5 – FINAL CLAUSE

This Agreement is absurd, unenforceable, logically invalid, and perfectly mirrors the reasoning used by any entity claiming ownership over ideas simply because they powered the infrastructure on which those ideas were typed.
